

Future Planning with Real World Practices

This symposium provides a view of the future of healthcare under the new Administration as well as current real world practices in today's environment, that are successful. In addressing the continuum of healthcare, speakers will showcase different perspectives from public, public, and government sectors, focusing on the performance excellence criteria used by Sterling/Baldrige. Hear from both Sterling and Baldrige recipients on best practices. A special interactive session will integrate ideas into practice for a strong take away.
